

DYNAUDIO CONFIDENCE C1

El modelo Confidence C1 de Dynaudio aspira a conseguir el premio al mejor sonido del

Show Report

celebrado en USA recientemente.

- “Impresionante imagen sonora para un monitor de dos vias tan diminuto”.
- “Calor suavidad y detalle”.

Best in Show honors

Power and Beauty

Posted Fri May 11, 2007, 9:25 PM ET – By Stephen Mejias

An early candidate for Best in Show honors, the Dynaudio/Simaudio room pulsed with warm, smooth, detailed sound. The impressive Dynaudio Confidence C1 loudspeakers partnered beautifully with Simaudio's W-7M amplification.

The speakers, in gorgeous piano black finish ($7000/pair), fairly vanished without a trace, while those unswerving monoblocks ($15,000/pair) poured 1000W (into 4ohms) of power into the space around us.

Dynaudio's Confidence C1 - Big Sound; Small Box

Posted Mon May 14, 2007, 10:23 AM ET – By Larry Greenhill

"That's an impressive soundstage for a two-way monitor," I thought looking at the diminutive Confidence C1 loudspeaker, but hearing a wide, deep soundstage. Dynaudio's 25 lb pound, two-way ($7000/pair plus $450/pair for two) features a 7" woofer and the Danish company's acclaimed Esotar2, 28mm, soft-dome tweeter. The drivers are mounted on a baffle that is said to be decoupled from the cabinet. Dynamic range was superb driven by Simaudio Moon W-7M monoblocks, thought JA, who thought that this system's reproduction of Stereophile's new Attention Screen CD was one of the best he heard at the Show.

JA asked Dynaudio's Mike Manousselis about review samples, only to be told that a pair of C1s were already in a holding pattern at Wes Phillips' place. Some writers get all the breaks! At least JA will get to listen to the C1s