

MCINTOSH C2300 / MC501

The all new C2300 pre and the MC501 monoblocks receive a glowing review in the June issue of Hi-Fi News!!!.

We all know here at Market-LeadersUK just how good the new C2300 preamp really is, especially when combined with the incredible MC501 monoblocks. It would seem we are not alone!!.

We gave the combo to Richard Stevenson of Hi-Fi News magazine to evaluate and to say he was impressed is a bit of an understatement. Coming from such an experienced reviewer this is quite a compliment. Below is a small extract from the review but do purchase the magazine as the entire review and particularly the laboratory test results make very interesting reading:

“The big Mac’s mix of solid-state and tube technologies elicits the best of both worlds, delivering a potent, high-end performance blissfully free of hi-fi pretence. This is an amplifier about timing and tempo over analytical detail, and about making the best of your entire CD collection rather than simply a handful of audiophile CDs. A real-world winner”.
